SEARCH FOR COLORADO STATE FORESTER

Qualifications:

Minimum

• Bachelor’s degree in forestry or related field, with at least one degree from a Society of American Foresters-accredited college or university.

• Ten years of results-driven field and staff forestry experience, with progressive levels of responsibility.

• Ten years of demonstrated administrative experience.

• Demonstrated leadership ability within a forestry / natural resource organization, including program development and implementation, and the ability to work effectively with internal and external partners and stakeholders.

Preferred

• A master’s degree or higher in forestry or a forestry-related field.

• Demonstrated ability to advocate for forest management in public and political forums.

• Demonstrated knowledge of the social-cultural, political, and economic contexts affecting forestry and forestry-related policy and legislation.

• Substantial administrative experience in forestry / natural resources with progressive levels of leadership responsibility, including leading/managing organizational change, human resources management, contracts and grants, and managing budgets.

• Demonstrated ability to communicate and work effectively with a variety of audiences, such as internal agency personnel; university administration; landowners; forest industry; forestry collaboratives; non-governmental conservation organizations; local, state, and federal agencies; communities; formal and informal decision-makers; elected officials; and media.

• Demonstrated ability to build coalitions, partnerships, and teams in support of forestry initiatives.

• Demonstrated forestry outreach and education experience.

• Demonstrated technical field-based forest management experience, such as silviculture, wildfire mitigation, forest industry, and forest ecology.

• Active in professional forestry organizations, such as the Society of American Foresters.

• Personal and professional commitment to diversity as demonstrated by persistent effort, active planning, allocation of resources and/or accountability for diversity outcomes.
Salary: Commensurate with experience and competitive with peer institutions.

Position Available: March 1, 2013

To apply, submit a statement of interest in this position, including how your experience fulfills qualification requirements, a resume, and names and contact information for four references, including, but not limited to, current and/or past supervisors online at the following address: http://warnercnr.colostate.edu/employment-opportunities.html.

References will not be contacted without prior notification to candidates.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but to ensure full consideration applications should be submitted by December 15, 2012.

Questions can be directed via email to job-info@warnercnr.colostate.edu. Applications sent over email will not be accepted.