

Yuki Higuchi
Biographical Information

Yuki Higuchi is an assistant professor at Nagoya City University, Japan. He has a B.A. from Kyoto University, Japan, and an M.A. and Ph.D. in Development Economics from National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS), Japan. His major area of interest includes industrial development, poverty alleviation and impact evaluation. He has conducted field research in Vietnam, the Philippines, Bangladesh, Tanzania and Uganda. One of his papers analyzing the impact of Kaizen management training in Vietnam is published as “Sustained Impacts of Kaizen Training” in Journal of Economic Behavior and Organization (2015).