Welcome to the MSU Dairy Cattle Teaching and Research Center (also known as the MSU Dairy Farm).

We are glad you have come to visit us!

The farm is open to the public for self-guided tours from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., seven days a week. Please use this brochure to guide you around the farm to the informational tour stops.

While touring, please remember:

- Dairy cows receive a controlled diet, and we ask that you please do not feed them any snacks (including grass from the ground).
- Please be alert and watch for moving vehicles.
- Please remember to wash your hands after petting any animals. We also recommend that you avoid eating or drinking around animal exhibit areas. Hand-washing areas and bathrooms are located at the office building at the northeastern corner of the farm.
- To help protect our animals, some of our areas are off limits to visitors. Please do not enter an area marked with a “Biosecurity Area, Please Do Not Enter” sign.
- To help ensure the biosecurity of our farm, we ask that you not approach, enter or tour our facility if you have been in a foreign country in the last seven days.
