

MSU Center for Systems Integration and Sustainability

2011 Rachel Carson Distinguished Lecture

Rethinking Human-Environment Interactions

Emilio Moran

*Rudy Professor of Anthropology and Distinguished Professor
Director, Anthropological Center for Training and Research on Global Environmental Change
Indiana University*

Dr. Moran is one of only a few anthropologists worldwide to study the importance of the human dimensions of global environmental change. He also is recognized as one of the first social scientists to integrate geographic information systems into anthropological research.

---

Thursday, December 8 • 3:30 p.m.
Lincoln Room Kellogg Center

---

The 2011 Rachel Carson Distinguished Lecture is presented by the Center for Systems Integration and Sustainability and the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife and supported by the National Science Foundation; the MSU offices of the President, Provost and Vice President for Research and Graduate Studies; the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources; and MSU AgBioResearch.

Dr. Moran's lecture is open to the public and will be followed by a reception.