

Forest Carbon & Climate Program

FCCP Discounts for Non-Credit Courses

The FCCP is pleased to offer discounts for eligible individuals and groups participating in our non-credit course opportunities. We offer a 20% discount on online short courses for certain educational, professional, group, and service affiliations. See the section below for a list of these groups as well as an example of acceptable proof of eligibility. Please note that once participants have signed up for a course, they will be prompted to provide such proof in an online form.

Eligible Parties and Proof Include:

The following list reflects eligible individuals and groups for FCCP discounts, alongside examples of acceptable proof of eligibility for each category.

Returning FCCP participants

- Name, email, year and title of previous FCCP course participation

USDA employees

- Register with USDA/USFS email, or contact us at forestc@msu.edu

Discount for individuals from developing nations, see list of eligible countries here

- Send image of ID or screenshot of professional listing

Current student enrolled in university

- Proof of currently enrolled status (e.g. course schedule)

Discount for groups of 5+ from same organization

- Contact us directly at forestc@msu.edu

Military personnel

- Documentation of service

Discount Registration:

Once you have reached the CashNet page to register, choose the course option that indicates the discounted price and the words “Eligible for Discount” (see figure below for example). After purchasing your course, you will receive a confirmation email that includes a survey link to provide proof of eligibility. Please plan to provide a PDF or image file indicating proof of eligibility.

Understanding Forest Carbon Management (Eligible for Discount) Understanding Forest Carbon Management is a short course designed to provide a robust introduction to the benefits of forest land management specific to carbon while offering clear action paths. Topic areas include carbon cycle and storage science, domestic and international policy overview, project case studies, management considerations, measurement basics, and available tools and support.	$637.50	View Details
---	----------	------------------------------

Fig. 1: Example purchasing options for discounted FCCP short course

For any questions please email forestc@msu.edu.

Michigan State University Forestry Department

Forest Carbon & Climate Program

Examples of Acceptable Proof:

Returning FCCP Participants

Document1

Name: Jane Smith
Email (used to register previously): janesmith@gmail.com
Previous course title: Understanding Forest Carbon Management
Year of participation: 2017

Fig. 2: Document including all required information

USDA Employees

*Student Name (first and last): Jane Doe

*Student Email: janedoe@usda.gov

Fig. 3: Registering on CashNet with USDA/USFS email

Discount for Individuals from Developing Nations

Fig. 4: image of ID

Current Student Enrolled in University

Enrolled Courses for Spring 2020

Click the section number for section specific dates, including the add and drop deadline.

Course	Section	Actions	Status	Credits	Title	Days
ACC 202	011		Enrolled	3	Principles of Management Acct	MW F
Final Exam: Tuesday, Apr 28 2020 8:00pm - 10:00pm
IAH 207	730		Enrolled	4	Lit, Cultures, Identities (1)	-
Sec 730-Online section. Focus: Modern Mexican Traditions and Identities.

Fig. 5: Image of course schedule (including student name and semester)

Discount for Groups of 5+ from same Organization

From: janesmith@gmail.com
 To: forestc@msu.edu
 Subject: FCCP Group Discount
 Dear FCCP,
 Our team of 6 would like to join your short course!

Fig. 6: Example email to forestc@msu.edu

Military Personnel

Fig. 7: Image of DD 214 form

