Michigan 4-H State Horse Show postponed until 2022

Due to the ongoing complexities of the current COVID-19 public health crisis, Michigan State University Extension has made the decision to postpone the Michigan 4-H State Horse Show until 2022.

MSU Extension remains committed to resuming in-person programming when it is safe to do so. The decision regarding the Michigan 4-H State Horse Show does not indicate that all in-person 4-H summer programming in 2021 will be virtual or postponed. Rather, the decision reflects on the unique nature of the event, which gathers hundreds of participants and thousands of people from across the state together in one central location. The size and scope of this event, combined with a number of uncertainties that remain at this point in the novel coronavirus pandemic, led us to make an early decision about the Michigan 4-H State Horse Show this year.

MSU Extension and 4-H animal science educators will continue to seek out and identify virtual equine learning opportunities that youth can safely take part in throughout the summer months. In addition, when MSU Extension resumes a limited number of face-to-face events, 4-H educators will identify and share smaller, lower-risk, in-person activities for regional participation.

We appreciate your continued interest in Michigan 4-H programming and for your support and understanding of efforts to protect participant health. We hope to be back together on campus in 2022!

Questions? Contact Taylor Fabus at tenlenta@msu.edu.
