SO4.1: Impact Assessment

The role of M&E and Impact
Assessment research is to make sure...

- When someone asks the question “Where are you going?” And “How far you have driven towards the goal of your journey?” we are able to provide relevant and accurate data / information
- We are here to serve as a resource team to help you think about what you need to plan and what type of data needs to be collected and explore rigorous methods of doing so to be able to answer these questions
