Important information for swine exhibitors

If you're planning to show your swine at fair, be aware of some changes: Updates for obtaining official identification for exhibition swine in 2021. First, check first with your local fair to see if they have leftover inventory that they can use this year. If they don't, ask the breeder where you purchase your pig(s) if they can place a USDA 840 tag in your animal(s). You can also register the premises where the pigs are housed by contacting MDARD, and purchase your own 840 tags. If you have any questions, please reach out to Nick Babcock, Michigan State University Extension 4-H livestock and veterinary science program educator, at babco116@msu.edu or Beth Ferry, MSU Extension pork educator, franzeli@msu.edu."
