LEARNING OBJECTIVES

p.361

Understand how to select a taxpayer's filing status. Identify when income is constructively received. Explain itemized deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040). Determine taxable income for student-athletes from NIL agreements.

3

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Pg 361

Recognize that contributions to NIL collectives are likely not eligible for charitable deductions.

Report a child's income correctly.

Explain eligibility for the earned income tax credit (EIC).

Understand how to amend a return for extended qualified disaster relief.

1

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.363

Generally, the taxpayer's filing status is determined by marital status on the last day of the tax year.

Single:

considered unmarried and do not qualify for head of household or qualifying surviving spouse status.

5

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.363

Considered unmarried for the entire year if, on the last day of the tax year,

 They are either unmarried or Legally separated under a divorce or separate maintenance decree, as determined by state law.

6

Practitioner Note-Considered Married

Taxpayers are considered married for tax purposes if, on the last day of the tax year:

- They are married and live together.
- They live together in a common-law marriage state or entered into a common-law marriage in another state.

7

Practitioner Note-Considered Married

- sidered Married p.363
- They are married but live apart without being legally separated under a divorce or separate maintenance decree.
- $\,^{\circ}\text{They}$  are separated under a divorce decree that is not yet final.

8

p.363

8

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.363

Married Filing Jointly

Taxpayers can choose married filing jointly (MFJ) as their filing status if

- they are considered married and
- both spouses agree to file a joint return.

If a taxpayer's spouse dies during the year, the surviving spouse is considered married for the entire tax year.

9

p.363

Married Filing Jointly

They can file as married filing jointly (MFJ) with the deceased spouse

If the surviving spouse remarries before the end of the vear:

- The surviving spouse can file jointly with the new spouse
- And file the deceased spouse's return as married filing separately.

10

Cross Reference-Relief from Joint Liability p.363

Spouses filing a joint tax return are both fully responsible for the total tax, interest, and penalties on their combined income

However, one spouse may be excused from this responsibility for errors made by the other spouse through one of three types of relief:

- 1. Innocent spouse relief,
- 2. Separation of liability, or
- 3. Equitable relief.

11

11

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.364

Married Filing Separately

A married couple can choose to file as married filing separately (MFS). A taxpayer filing as MFS usually pays more tax due to:

- 1. Higher average tax rates compared to joint returns.
- 2. Ineligibility for the child and dependent care credit.
- 3. Ineligibility for education credits and the student loan interest deduction.

p.364

Married Filing Separately (Con't)

- 4. Possible ineligibility for the earned income tax credit.
- 5. Reduced child tax credit and credit for other dependents.
- 6. Both spouses must itemize deductions if one chooses to, even if it results in less benefit for the other.
- 7. 85% of SS is taxable income.

13

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.364

Joint Return after Separate Returns

Taxpayers who filed MFS may file an amended tax return to change their filing status to MFJ.

Generally, the amended return must be filed within 3 years of the due date of the separate returns, without extensions.

14

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.364

Separate Returns after Joint Return

Taxpayers cannot switch from a joint return to separate returns after the return's due date.

However, a personal representative for a deceased individual has up to one year from the return's due date (including extensions) to change the joint return to a separate return for the decedent.

15

p.364

Cross Reference-Ethics

Determining a taxpayer's legal marital status may involve legal expertise, and assisting taxpayers in selecting the correct filing status can lead to potential conflicts of interest.

16

16

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.364-365

Head of Household (HoH)

A taxpayer must meet all these conditions:

- 1. Be unmarried as of the last day of the tax year, with exceptions for certain married individuals living apart or married to nonresident aliens.
- 2. Cannot claim HoH status in the year their spouse died; they must file a joint or separate return.

17

17

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.364-365

Head of Household (Con't)

- 3. Must be a U.S. citizen or resident.
- 4. The taxpayer must pay over half the costs of maintaining a home where a qualifying person lived for more than half the year. A taxpayer with a dependent parent qualifies even if the parent does not live with them.

18

p.365

Considered Unmarried

A taxpayer is considered unmarried on the last day of the tax year if all the following conditions are met:

- 1. The taxpayer files separately (MFS, single, or HoH).
- The taxpayer paid over half the cost of maintaining their home.
- The spouse did not live in the home during the last 6 months of the year.

19

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.365

Considered Unmarried (Con't)

- 4. The home was the main residence of the taxpayer's child, stepchild, or foster child for more than half the year.
- 5. The taxpayer can claim an exemption for the child or meets the requirements for suspended exemptions, because the noncustodial parent claims the child.

Joint Return

25

ISSUE 1: Filing Status Cross-Reference Qualifying Relative: • Cannot be a qualifying child for any taxpayer • Must meet member of household or relationship test • Gross Income Test • Support Test

26

26

ISSUE 1: Filing Status Qualifying Surviving Spouse A surviving spouse can file as married filing jointly (MFJ) in the year of their spouse's death and as a qualifying surviving spouse for the two years following the spouse's death. To file as a qualifying surviving spouse, the surviving spouse must: 1. Have been eligible to file MFJ with the deceased spouse in the year of their death. 2. Ensure the spouse died in 2023 or 2024 and not remarry before the end of 2025.

p.367

Qualifying Surviving Spouse (Con't)

- 3. Have a child or stepchild who qualifies as a dependent.
- 4. Have the child live in their home all year, except for temporary absences.
- 5. Pay more than half the cost of maintaining the home.

28

28

Filing Status Effect on Tax Rates

p.368

Single vs. MFJ

For taxpayers in the 32% tax bracket or lower, the MFJ tax brackets are double those of single filers, meaning filing as married or single has no effect on tax rates. However, in the 35% and 37% brackets, the MFJ tax brackets are not double, resulting in a marriage penalty for MFJ filers.

See Figure 10.3 on page 368

Example 10.3, high income couple contemplating marriage, resulting in a $7,969 higher tax liability than if filing as two single taxpayers

29

29

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.369

Single versus HoH

In 2025, Head of Household (HoH) filers benefit from more favorable tax brackets compared to single filers in the 10%, 12%, and 22% tax brackets.

HoH taxpayers in the 24% bracket and higher have similar tax brackets to single taxpayers but still benefit from more favorable tax calculations.

See Figure 10.4 on page 369 for tax rate/income comparisons

30

ISSUE 1: Filing Status p.370

Example 10.4 Allocating HoH Status

Mark is divorced and has a 12-year-old daughter who splits her time between her parents' homes. She qualifies as a dependent for both Mark and his ex-wife, Julie.

In 2025, Julie's taxable income was $550,000, and Mark's taxable income was $50,000.

31

ISSUE 1: Filing Status

p.370

Example 10.4 Allocating HoH Status (Con't)

The Head of Household (HoH) filing status provides a $4,513 tax benefit to Julie and a $1,154 tax benefit to Mark, making it $3,359 more advantageous for Julie before factoring in tax credits.

Julie cannot claim the child tax credit or the earned income tax credit (EIC) due to her high income. Mark qualifies for the $2,000 child tax credit but does not qualify for the EIC because his earned income exceeds the phaseout threshold.

Cross Reference-Allocation of Tax Benefits p.370

Only one person can claim a child as a qualifying child to receive tax benefits such as:

- Earned income tax credit (EIC)
- Child tax credit (CTC)
- Additional child tax credit (ACTC)
- Credit for other dependents (ODC)
- Head of household (HoH) status
- Child and dependent care expenses credit
- Dependent care benefits exclusion

33

Cross Reference-Allocation of Tax Benefits p.370

If a child qualifies as a dependent for both parents, tiebreaker rules determine who can claim the child.

Divorced or separated parents can release:

- •The Child Tax Credit (CTC)
- Additional Child Tax Credit (ACTC)
- Other Dependent Credit (ODC)

End

34

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.37

Cash method taxpayers recognize income when it is actually received or constructively received.

Constructive receipt occurs when income is credited to the taxpayer's account, set aside, or made available for use, even if not physically received.

However, income is not considered constructively received if there are significant limitations or restrictions on accessing it.

35

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.371

Practitioner Note: Cash vs Accrual Method

Accrual method taxpayers recognize income when it is earned. The constructive receipt doctrine does not apply to taxpayers using the accrual method.

36

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.371

Constructive Receipt-Corporate Stock

Stock compensation is not considered constructively received if there are significant restrictions or limitations on accessing it.

For example, if a corporation credits employees with bonus stock but the stock is not accessible until a later date, it does not count as constructively received.

37

37

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.371-372

Constructive Receipt-Interest and Dividends

Interest or dividends are considered constructively received by a cash basis taxpayer if they are available without restrictions, even if not actually received.

Example 10.5 Dividend Mailed In Subsequent Year

Winter Garden Corporation declared a dividend payable on December 31, 2025. Although the checks were mailed and received by shareholders in January 2026, the dividends are considered constructively received in 2026.

38

38

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.372

Constructive Receipt-Royalties

Royalties are considered constructively received when they are unconditionally available to the taxpayer, such as when credited to their account by the lessee.

Example 10.6 Royalty Income not Unconditionally Available

Blanche owned mineral rights in land leased to an oil company. After her death in 2025, the oil company held royalty payments in a suspense account. In 2026, the company identified her heirs and distributed the royalties, which the beneficiaries reported as income in 2026.

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt p.372 Constructive Receipt-Trust Income If a taxpayer is the sole income beneficiary of a trust and can demand payment from the trustee, all trust income is considered part of the taxpayer's income, even if it is not actually distributed.

40

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.372

Example 10.7-Trust does not enforce repayment of loans

Robert Greene sold property interests in California and transferred the proceeds to a grantor trust managed by his employee. The trust loaned him money upon request without enforcing repayment terms or interest payments, giving Robert full control over the funds. As a result, he was deemed to have constructive receipt of the sale proceeds.

41

41

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.373

Constructive Receipt-Compensation, Prizes, Bonuses

Compensation, prizes, and bonuses must be included in gross income for the year they are actually or constructively received.

- Credited to TP's account
- •Set apart for the TP
- Made available to TP

42

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.373

Sent By Mail

Check is mailed to a taxpayer at the end of December

Received in January

Taxable in the year it is received, not the year it was mailed.

Example 10.8-Attempted Delivery of Certified mail-Taxable in year of attempted delivery, even though she was not home and the PO was closed when she went there to collect mail.

Example 10.9-Interesting different result because she did not expect the check and did not intentionally delay.

-----,-

43

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.374

Constructive Receipt-Substantial Restrictions

A taxpayer does not have constructive receipt of compensation, prizes, or bonuses if there are significant limitations or restrictions on when or how the payment can be received.

44

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.374

Constructive Receipt-Substantial Restrictions

Example 10.10-Distance and Timing were substantial restrictions on receipt Taxpayer earned a $13,095 commission, but the check dated December 30 was mailed to him that day and not received until January. December 30 was on a Saturday and company was 40 miles away—not taxable until year received in mail

Example 10.11-Paul Hornung, NFL star was awarded Corvette on 12/31, but did not get keys until 1/3. Not taxable until later year

45

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.374

Constructive Receipt-Compensation not Determinable

The constructive receipt doctrine does not apply when an employee's compensation amount cannot be determined by the end of the year.

46

Issue 2: Constructive Receipt

p.374

Constructive Receipt-Compensation not Determinable

Example 10.12 Bonus is not determinable

Taxpayer receives a base salary and a bonus based on the corporation's profit, which is calculated in January of the following year and paid within 2½ months after the corporation's tax year ends

Taxpayer does not include the bonus in his 2025 income because the amount was not determined. Instead, he reports it as part of his 2026 gross income.  $$_{\rm End}$$

47

47

Issue 4: Student Athlete NIL Issues

p. 386

- $\circ$  Student-athletes must report NIL income on their federal and state tax returns or their parents' returns.
- NIL collectives, independent entities that pool funds from boosters and businesses, provide financial opportunities for student-athletes.
- $\circ$  Some NIL collectives have previously obtained tax-exempt status from the IRS.

48

NIL Income

p.386

Student-athletes earn money through NIL activities such as guest appearances, autograph signings, exhibitions, sponsorships, endorsements, content creation, non-fungible tokens, gifts, and giveaways like gift cards.

The most common NIL revenue sources for college athletes are social media and brand endorsement deals.

Practitioner Note-When NCAA NIL policy conflicts with state law NIL policy, NCAA takes the position that NCAA NIL policy is the governing authority

49

49

Tax Considerations for Student-Athletes

p.386-387

Any money, goods, property, or services received from NIL activities are taxable income, including noncosh benefits like free products or services exchanged for endorsements, which must be reported at their fair market value.

Student-athletes performing NIL services are typically considered independent contractors. They must file a federal tax return to report self-employment income if their net earnings from NIL activities are at least $400 or if their income exceeds the standard deduction.

Tax Considerations for Student-Athletes p. 3

If their NIL income is $600 or more, they should receive a Form 1099-NEC for nonemployee compensation. Note that the H.R.1 changed this to $2,000 for payments after 2025.

Income or benefits received by student-athletes from NIL activities must be reported as faxable income on the FAFSA, which can affect financial aid eligibility, including Pell Grants.

51

NIL Collectives

p. 387

NIL collectives are independent entities affiliated with colleges or universities that generate funding to support student-athletes' NIL opportunities.

Most students engage with these groups, while top-tier athletes may negotiate NIL contracts through professional services providers.

52

52

NIL Collectives

p. 387

NIL Agreements

Student-athletes enter into NIL agreements with collectives, which may involve upfront payments, monthly payments, and other incentives. Collectives also accept charitable contributions and collaborate with local and regional charities to create paid NIL opportunities for student-athletes.

53

53

NIL Collectives-Tax Exempt Status

p.387

Some NIL collectives are set up as nonprofit entities or operate under existing nonprofit organizations.

However, recent IRS guidance indicates that these collectives typically do not qualify for tax-exempt status, and contributions to them are not tax-deductible.

NIL Collectives-Tax Exempt Status p.387-388 IRS Citations: AM 2023-004-IRS Chief Counsel concludes that the benefit to private interests provided by nonprofit NIL collectives is typically significant and not incidental. Private Letter Rulings- Recent private letter rulings determined that NIL collectives primarily benefit student-athletes, failing the operational test for tax-exempt status.

Issue 5: Kiddie Tax p.389 Long history of changes, Tax Reform Act of 1986 required use of parents marginal rates, TCJA 2017 required use of trust and estate tax rates, CAA (Secure Act Provisions) restored PRE TCJA rules (parents marginal tax rates), and H.R.1 did nothing directly with the Kiddie Tax, leaving the Secure Act provisions intact (parents marginal tax rates)

Chapter 10 Issue 5 Kiddie Tax

58

Kiddie Tax-Filing Requirements

p.389

For 2025, a dependent must file a tax return if:

Unearned income exceeds $1,350.

Earned income exceeds $15,750.

Both earned and unearned income result in gross income exceeding the greater of:

- $1,350, or
- $_{\circ}\,$450$  plus earned income (up to the  $$15,\!750$  standard deduction).

59

59

Earned Income

p.390

Generally, earned income includes wages, tips, and payments for personal services.

For taxpayers in a trade or business where both personal services and capital contribute to income, earned income includes up to 30% of their share of net profits as reasonable compensation for their services. (Did you know this?)

60

Kiddie Tax-Earned Income

p.390

Example 10.15 Earned Income from a T or B

Aaron , a 17-year-old, earned $3,850 from his online memorabilia sales in 2025, treated it as a business, and reported it on Schedule C (Form 1040). He paid $544 in self-employment tax on the income.

For kiddie tax purposes, Aaron can classify $1,155 of his $3,850 net profit as earned income if he proves his labor and management are worth that amount. The remaining $2,695 is treated as unearned income for kiddie tax calculations. However, the full $3,850 is considered earned income when calculating his standard deduction.

Kiddie Tax

p.390

A child's earned income is part of their own gross income, not the parent's. Any deductions related to the child's earnings belong to the child, even if the parent makes the payments.

62

62

Filing the Child's Return

p.391

A child must file Form 8615, Tax for Certain Children Who Have Unearned Income, if they meet five specific conditions.

- 1. Unearned income exceeds $2,700.
- 2. The child is required to file a tax return.
- 3. The child meets one of these age criteria:
- $_{\circ}$  Under age 18 at year-end.
- $\,^\circ$  Age 18 at year-end with earned income less than half of their support.
- $\circ$  Full-time student aged 19–24 at year-end with earned income less than half of their support (excluding scholarships).

63

Filing the Child's Return p.391 4. At least one parent of the child must be alive at the end of the year. 5. The child must not file a joint tax return. Unearned Income-list on page 390

64

Which Parent's Income To Use

p.391

If parent's file a ioint return, then the parent's marginal tax rates are used

However, if the parent's do not file a joint return, which would not be the typical situation, then special rules apply. See page 390 for listing.

Example 10.16 Calculation-Only Unearned Income p.392-395

In 2025, 13-year-old Jerrod had 6,350 in taxable interest income, 3,000 in qualified dividends, and no earned income.

His parents, Logan and Jessica, filed a joint return with $206,700 in taxable income at a 24% marginal tax rate. Jerrod's standard deduction was $1,350, resulting in $8,000 of taxable income.

66

Example 10.16 Calculation-Only Unearned Income p.392-395

The author ran this on her Drake Software and they came up with the same number, same forms, same worksheets. The allocation of the qualified dividends between the parents and the child for purposes of the tax calculations was handled automatically by the software.

67

Example 10.17-Kiddie Tax-Unearned & Earned Income p.39

In 2025, Rosalie Simmons, a 17-year-old living with her parents, earned $5,000 in wages and $4,700 in taxable interest income, totaling $9,700 in gross income. She claimed a $5,450 dependent standard deduction, leaving $4,250 in taxable income, which resulted in $425 in tax at a 10% rate.

Rosalie had $2,000 of net unearned income ($4,700-$2,700), taxed at her parents' 24% rate, resulting in $480. Her remaining taxable income was taxed at 10%, adding $225. The total tax is $705, which is higher than $425, so she reports $705 on line 16 of her Form 1040.

68

Election-Reporting on the Parent's Return

p.396

Form 8814

A parent can choose to report a child's interest, dividends, and capital gains on their own tax return, eliminating the need for the child to file a separate return. A parent can make this election if the following 8 conditions are met:

- 1. Be under age 19 or a full-time student under age 24 at the end of the year.
- 2. Have income solely from interest, dividends, capital gain distributions, or Alaska Permanent Fund dividends.
- 3. Have gross income more than $1,350 and less than $13,500 for 69

Election-Reporting on the Parent's Return p.396

- 4. The child is required to file a tax return
- 5. The child does not file a joint tax return.
- 6. No estimated tax payments or overpayment from a prior year were applied under the child's SSN.
- 7. No federal income tax was withheld from the child's income.
- 8. The parent must be eligible to make the election or file jointly with the child's other parent.

70

Warning about using the 8814

p.395

It may save filing a separate return for the child,

BUT

Filing a separate tax return for a child can be more beneficial because certain tax benefits, like the additional standard deduction for blindness, penalty deductions for early savings withdrawal, and itemized deductions, are only available on the child's return. Additionally, qualifying dividends and capital gains distributions may be taxed at a 0% rate on the child's return, potentially eliminating tax on the first $1,350.

71

71

Example 10.18 Comparison of Tax 8814/8615 p.397-398

Form 8814, not doing that extra return for the child results in a total tax of $1,539

Form 8615, filing that extra return for the child results in a total tax of $1,452, so going with simpler process, the 8814, cost $87.

Cost of tax preparation for the child's return?????????

72

Kiddie Tax - Tax Planning

p.399

Keep income that triggers Kiddie Tax out of child's income

- 1. Convert ordinary income to capital gains or qualified dividends to utilize the zero percent tax rate.
- 2. Defer unearned income recognition until the child is no longer subject to the kiddie tax.
- 3. Use a section 529 plan for tuition instead of gifting money directly to the child.

73

73

Kiddie Tax - Tax Planning

p.399

Keep income that triggers Kiddie Tax out of child's income

- 4. Shift the child's investments to growth-focused assets rather than income-producing ones.
- 5. Employ the child in a family business to help them provide over half of their ownsupport.
- 6. Let the child claim education credits if the parents exceed the income threshold for eligibility.

74

74

Example 10.19-Kiddie Tax and AOTC

p.399

The Sanchez's, a married couple filing jointly, have a MAGI exceeding $440,000, making them ineligible for the $2,500 AOTC.

Jeorge and Maria can gift up to $38,000 in appreciated stock to their 19-year-old son Marc, a full-time student eligible for the American Opportunity Tax Credit (AOTC).

75

Example 10.19-Kiddie Tax and AOTC

p.399

Marc can sell the stock and use the AOTC to offset any tax on the gain, allowing Jeorge and Maria to avoid taxes on the stock sale while maximizing the AOTC benefit.

However, they cannot claim the \$500 credit for other dependents for Marc.  $\label{eq:market}$

76

Issue 6: Earned Income Credit

p.400

Rules for all Taxpayers Claiming The EIC

To claim the Earned Income Tax Credit (EIC), taxpayers must meet the following rules:

- 1. Have adjusted gross income (AGI) below the phaseout limit
- 2. Possess a valid Social Security Number (SSN).
- 3. Generally, not file as Married Filing Separately (MFS).
- 4. Be a U.S. citizen or resident alien for the entire tax year.

77

77

Earned Income Credit

p.400

- 5. Taxpayers cannot claim the Earned Income Tax Credit (EIC) if they file Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ to exclude foreign earned income.
- 6. To claim the Earned Income Tax Credit (EIC) for 2025, taxpayers must have investment income of $11,950 or less and
- 7. Have earned income.

78

AGI Limits 2025

p.400

Three or more qualifying children: $61,555 ($68,675 for Married Filing Jointly).

Two qualifying children: $57,310 ($64,430 for Married Filing Jointly)

One qualifying child: $50,434 ($57,554 for Married Filing laintly)

No qualifying child: $19,104 ($26,214 for Married Filing Jointly).

79

79

Valid SSN

n 400

To claim the Earned Income Tax Credit (EIC), the taxpayer, their spouse (if filing jointly), and any qualifying child must have valid Social Security numbers (SSNs) issued by the Social Security Administration by the tax return's due date, including extensions.

A SSN is invalid for claiming the EIC if the social security card states "Not valid for employment" and was issued solely for accessing federally funded benefits.

80

Valid SSN

p.400

Starting from tax years after December 31, 2020, taxpayers with qualifying children who do not meet identification requirements can still claim the Earned Income Credit (EIC) as if they have no children.

Practitioner Note - TP with ITIN not eligible for EITC

Married Filing Separately

Generally, the MFS filing status prevents a taxpayer from claiming the EITC. However there is an exception to allow a married person who possibly cannot locate the other spouse to still qualify for the EITC

A separated spouse is considered unmarried for tax purposes if:

They live with a qualifying child for more than half the year and do not share the same home with their spouse during the last 6 months of the year; or

They have a legal agreement (not a divorce decree) with their spouse and are not part of the same household by the end of the year.

82

U.S. Citizen or Resident

A nonresident alien cannot claim the Earned Income Tax Credit (EIC) unless filing as Married Filing Jointly (MFJ), with one spouse being a U.S. citizen or resident alien, and the nonresident spouse opting to be treated as a U.S. resident.

No EITC if form 2555 or 2555EZ filed

Investment Income limit in 2025 is $11,950

83

What is Earned Income

Wages, salaries, tips, and other taxable employee pay. Net earnings from self-employment (after deducting half of self-employment taxes).

Gross income reported as a statutory employee on Form W-2 (box13).

Practitioner Note:

The rental value of a home or housing allowance provided to a minister is included in earned income for the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC).

84

What is not Earned Income p.401-402 Interest and dividends Pensions and annuities Social security and railroad retirement benefits Alimony and child support Welfare benefits Workers' compensation and unemployment insurance benefits Nontaxable foster care payments Veterans' benefits, including VA rehabilitation benefits, and nontaxable workfare payments

85

Claiming EITC with NO Qualifying Child

Taxpayers claiming the Earned Income Tax Credit (EIC) without a qualifying child must meet  $\underline{\text{four}}$  additional rules beyond the seven general rules for eligibility.

- 1. Age Requirement at least 25 but <65
- 2. Not a Dependent of another person
- 3. Not a Qualifying Child of another taxpayer
- 4. Residence Requirement-main home in U.S. for more than  $\ensuremath{\mathcal{V}}_2$  of year

86

86

Claiming EITC with a Qualifying Child p.402

The taxpayer must meet seven general rules and additional requirements.

The child must satisfy the relationship, age, residency, and joint return tests, and cannot be claimed as a qualifying child by more than one person.

Claiming EITC with a Qualifying Child

p.402

Relationship Test- Must be the taxpayer's child, stepchild, foster child, adopted child, or a descendant of any of them (e.g., grandchild), or the taxpayer's sibling, half-sibling, step-sibling, or a descendant of any of them (e.g., niece or nephew).

Adopted children are considered the taxpayer's children for EIC purposes.

88

Claiming EITC with a Qualifying Child

p.402-403

Age Test- A qualifying child must:

Be under age 19 at the end of the year and younger than the taxpayer (or spouse if filing jointly).

Be under age 24 at the end of the year, a full-time student, and younger than the taxpayer (or spouse if filing jointly).

Be permanently and totally disabled at any time during the year, regardless of age.

89

89

Claiming EITC with a Qualifying Child

p.403

Residency Test- A qualifying child must live with the taxpayer in the U.S. for over 6 months of the year, with exceptions for military personnel, temporary absences, or situations involving birth, adoption, foster care, death, or kidnapping during the year.

Claiming EITC with a Qualifying Child

Joint Return Test- A qualifying child cannot file a joint return if the taxpayer is claiming the EIC, except when the joint return is filed solely to claim a refund of withheld or estimated taxes.

Only one person can claim the child as a qualifying child. Taxpayer is not a Qualifying Child of another Taxpayer.

Issue 7: Qualified Disaster Relief Pg 407

Issue 7: Qualified Disaster Losses

p.407

This is important, snuck in after last year's tax schools, signed into law 12/12/24.

The Federal Disaster Tax Relief Act of 2023 expands tax relief for disasterrelated personal casualty losses, including losses from wildfires and a train derailment.

From 2018 to 2025, personal casualty or theft losses are deductible only if caused by a federally declared disaster. These losses are reduced by $100 per casualty and 10% of adjusted gross income (AGI), unless classified as qualified disaster losses.

94

94

Before the Federal Disaster Tax Relief Act

p.407

Qualified disaster losses are exempt from the 10%-of-AGI reduction, and the $100 reduction is increased to $500. Taxpayers can also add the net loss from a qualified disaster to their standard deduction. The problem with Qualified Disaster Losses was that they had to be SPECIFICALLY LISTED by both incident and date, ie., look at the listing under Qualified Disaster Loss on p. 407

95

The New Law-Federal Disaster Tax Relief Act p.40

The Federal Disaster Tax Relief Act of 2023 expanded the definition of a qualified disaster to include major disasters declared by the president between:

January 1, 2020, and February 10, 2025.

The disaster must have an incident period that began on or after December 28, 2019, and on or before December 12, 2024, and must have ended no later than January 11, 2025.

Obviously, because of the retroactivity, amended returns may be in order

The New Law-Federal Disaster Tax Relief Act Chp 14, p.587

I.R.C. 165(h)(5) amended

- •Includes State declared disaster
- Any natural catastrophe or
- Regardless of cause, magnitude of damage warrants a disaster declaration
- After Dec 31, 2025

Example 10.21 Amended Return for Hurricane IAN p.407-411

Chris and Kay Smith owned a second home in Fort Myers, Florida, purchased in 2004 with an adjusted basis of $225,000. Hurricane lan, declared a federal disaster on September 29, 2022, caused significant damage to the property.

Chris and Kay's second home had a fair market value of $505,000 before the loss and $420,000 after the loss. They received a $40,000 insurance settlement in June 2023, and their AGI for 2023 was $487,000.

Wildfire Relief Payments

p.412

The Federal Disaster Tax Relief Act of 2023 excludes compensation for expenses or losses from a qualified wildfire disaster (declared after 2014 due to a forest or range fire) from a taxpayer's gross income.

The act excludes qualified wildfire relief payments from gross income for tax years starting after December 31, 2019, and ending before January 1, 2026.

100

Wildfire Relief Payments

p.412

These payments include compensation for:

Losses, expenses, or damages (including extra living expenses).

Lost wages (excluding wages an employer would have paid).

Personal injury, death, or emotional distress caused by a wildfire disaster, as long as the losses or expenses are not covered by insurance or other sources.

101

Train Derailment Payments

p.412

The Federal Disaster Tax Relief Act of 2023 excludes payments for losses related to the East Palestine, Ohio, train derailment on February 3, 2023, from taxable income.

These payments, classified as qualified disaster relief payments, cover compensation for losses, damages, expenses, property value loss, real estate closing costs, or inconvenience.

They must be provided by government agencies, Norfolk Southern Railway, or its affiliates, and received on or after February 3, 2023.
