The dates are October 4-15, 2017. Heather volunteered to have Rolling Clovers work at Three Rivers on Sunday, October 15th. She will also check to see if they can fill another date. Others on Youth Council were also looking at dates to help.

- e. 4-H Camp Committee date was postponed until the next meeting
- f. Milk Barn cleaning: Heather will clean when she has a minute this next week
- g. Scavenger Hunt: 70 kids participated. They planned for 12 teams, so they put 6 kids on each team. The kids had a ball and several people helped man the stations to hand out clues.
- h. Brittany asked if there could be a post-fair Still Project meeting. Several people had contacted her about reviewing the process. Barb stated that this should be an every- year thing just like animal species meeting. Several board members agreed stating that still projects are down and if more people had input, maybe that would increase. Eva said she will add it to the list, but that it probably would not happen until January or February.

- i. Michelle asked why the Fair was not on the Agenda anywhere. She brought up concerns about the mandatory leader meetings and leaders not getting their fair passes. She stated that several leaders only attend the leader meeting and never do any meetings for the kids or anything else and still receive their passes. Several Youth Council members agreed. Heather shared frustration at the same problem and that some of the “required” leader meetings had not been beneficial in any way to leaders as they had someone talking about campus and how many acres, etc. The focus of 4-H is supposed to be making the best better for the kids and it is disrespectful to the leaders that donate their time on several activities but are denied a pass because they do not attend this one meeting. Cody asked if there was someone at MSU that we could talk to about not making these meetings mandatory as she and her husband had attended some and walked out because they were “ridiculous”. Several members informed her that the mandatory leader meetings were required by Eva and not MSU. Several board members stated that they would like this to be revisited and Michelle suggested a form for each leader stating what activities they had done that year, something similar to a professional development form, be turned in to receive their pass. Eva said that it would be too much work for the office. Jenny stated that it could be something that a Youth Council committee could document for Eva.

13. Adjournment

- Jenny moved to adjourn, Heather seconded. Meeting adjourned at 7:47 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Heather Teadt
